First Batch of City's Quota of 6,388 Receive a Hearty, but Subdued Send-Off-Only One Man, a Chinaman, Failed to Report to Registration Board

Grimly and without a single hitch, the 813 young men New York City sed for jobs in the National Army left for Camp Upton yesterday. They were the first increment of the city's quota in the second draft, and a total of 6,388 will be out of the city and in cantonments by Friday afternoon.

The departure of the first men of the second draft army yesterday was vastly different from that of last September. The business of war was new then. New York did not know how to take the draft. Yesterday it was other-and bands when men go off to war. But this farewell to the new draft men was infinitely soberer and deeper than the goodby to the first batch of con-

There was nothing of hysteria in the goodbys at the East Thirty-fourth Street ferries, Manhattan, where men from Manhattan and The Bronx left for Yaphank. It was the same at the Carlton Avenue yards of the Long Island Railroad, in Brooklyn. Here the crush outside the yards was great, for Brooklyn sent 555 rookies in yesterday's contingent.

The change since last September manifested itself, too, in the promptness with which men all over the city reported at their local boards, preparatory to marching to the points of entrainment. There were no tardy ones, no laggards. In the entire contingent only one man failed to appear without reason. This lone delinquent was a Chinaman, Lee Wing Sat, of Brooklyn. His local board, No. 24, announced that if he doesn't put in an appearance immediately he will be posted as a deserter. Gerald McLoughlin, of the adjutant general's office, represented Draft Director Conboy in Brooklyn and superintended the departure of the men. Farewell exercises were held at all the local boards. Colonel Wykopf, a Civil War veteran, made a short speech to the boys from Board 24 and marched with them to the station. There were gifts for the men, too-cigarettes, Red Cross kits and other things. Local boards in Manhatian marched the men to the East Thirty-fourth Street ferries, bringing with them hundreds CAMP UPTON, N. Y., April 1.—Two weeks' medical observation is to given the 7,000 new draft men who will come here this week before they are assigned to permanent units and put under the regular routine. This measure is taken simply as a precaution. The 1,422 men who came here today were sent at once to the depot brigade, where they will be quartered with the rest of the new arrivals until the surgeons release them for assignment.

To-morrow the men will be examined by the surgeons, formed into provisional companies and put under daily setting up exercises until they are

Wilson to Open Loan Drive for Baltimore

WASHINGTON, April 1.—President Wilson to-day accepted an invitation to open the Liberty Loan tampaign in Baltimore Saturday, the first anniversary of America's entrance into the war.

While in Baltimore the President also will review 18,000 troops from the National Army cantonment at Camp Meade.

National Army cantonment at Camp Meade.

The occasion of the address is the Liberty Loan "cantonment" being held at Baltimore to stimulate interest in the loan drive.

Sceretary Daniels will speak at the "cantonment" to-morrow night, and during the next few weeks the speaking list will include other Cabinet officers, Representatives and diplomatic representatives of the Allied governments.

The President has been following closely the situation on the battlefront and various international political developments of recent weeks. Colonel E. M. House, the President's adviser, has if an at the White House for the last few days. His visits often before have preceded the President's declarations concerning foreign affairs.

Ratincation, the deader, but now a prohibit that they had not changed their position of three of his colleagues of the collection of the c British forces. In reply to a note asking whether he intended to apply for a commission in the British army he wrote:

"I have a health bureau in Palestine. I have a soup kitchen there where 650 are fed daily, and I must say I am anxious to go there as soon as I get the chance."

The meeting was the climax of a celebration which started early in the afternoon when processions of Zionist organizations set out from remote liall. In Manhattan there were three big parades, one marching through the East Side and increasing by hundreds in every block; one which started at Fourteenth Street and went up Fifth Avenue, and one which started in Harlem. The marchers bore banners and transparencies affirming their loyalty to the cause of the United States and their rejoicing in the restoration of the Jews and the arrival of the British-Jewish commission in Palestine, and a patriotic rally of the Jews of New York. The hall was alive with a six-pointed star.

The audience arose to "The Star-Spangled Banner," "God Save the Colors of Zion, a blue and white flag with a six-pointed star.

The motion to recommit the bill we should be a worken of 70 to 46.

The Assembly passed unanimously a bill introduced in the interest of Paul Chapman, the Brooklyn choirboy under sentence of death in Sing Sing. It was fathered by Assemblyman Morgan T. Donnelly, of Brooklyn, and provides that life imprisonment shall be the punishment for murder committed by a minor. The bill is not retroactive, but its passage is the Legislature's method of appealing to the Governor for clemency for the condemned youth. Several women's organizations in Brooklyn are working in young Chapman's behalf.

"Russia's Murder-Made Equality"

IEUTENANT Boris Schumanski, an officer in Kerensky's army, a fugitive from the Bolsheviki and a newspaper man under the old regime, has written for The Tribune from his own experiences four big, thrilling, exclusive articles on the conditions of Russia to-day. He tells of the brutality of the returning soldiers, the bands of criminals that range the country unrestrained, the terror of the common people of the cities and the brutalization of the peasantry.

Read these articles as they appear each week. They will give you a vivid picture of what life is like under the Bolsheviki. The second of the series is entitled "Russia's Murder-made Equality"-read it next Sunday.
